Dear President Reagan,

In August 1985 I wrote to you, Sir, concerning Mr. Raoul Wallenberg. If you recall, he is the Swedish Diplomat held by the Russians since 1945. In 1981 you made him an honorary U.S. citizen.

In my letter I urged you to inquire about his fate of Premier Gorbachev, at your summit meeting with him last fall. Needless to say I was very disappointed not to receive an answer to my letter.

The consensus among Republicans here seems to be, answering correspondence is not one of the strong points of your administration. Since this is my first experience of this kind ever, I decided to try again, and hope you will answer just two questions for me.

Does your information indicate wether Mr. Wallenberg is dead or alive? If alive, what are you doing to secure his release?

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely Yours
